

Secure1475 provides one-stop physical database mining platforms and Network Marketing exclusivity to Digital Profit Members through Mars Blockchain, which gathers the most elite product, technology and actuarial teams from Motorola, Tencent, Kingsoft and other respected companies, and has extensive and deep strategic cooperation with leading companies in the industry. Mars Blockchain, founded by Wang Feng, has received multiple rounds of strategic investments from Capital, CeRMB Capital, Pan Cheng Capital, Capital, Firecoin Capital, Coin Capital, Ming Shi Capital, and Wu Jihan, who founded the company.

Through our exclusive relationships, we centrally procure physical mining machines and provide open, professional, transparent and real mining services with comprehensive professional operation and maintenance for Digital Profit Members. Through one-stop professional management, the top mining machine manufacturers, mining locations, mining pools and professional maintenance teams in the industry are linked. Affordable, stable and strictly selected mining resources are gathered to provide safe and compliant mining investment channels and help the average person participate in mining production. The service tenet of the company is to provide one-click escrow, strict selection of mining machines, compliance and trustworthiness, ultra-low electricity price and maximum profit sharing.